ST. This the employees refused to do, and on being informed that a contract was the Company's only ultimatum, all the men in the converting, blooming and rail works immediately struck. The hands in the furnace and departments connected therewith did not strike, and received, on demand, an advance of 25 per cent. in their wages.

The American Union Co., applied to the Courts and to-day obtained an injunction against the Western Union Co., restraining the latter from interference on the ground that its exclusive rights of the contract was void."

Sad Suicide.

CHICAGO, March 2.—A St. Louis special dispatch says: E. C. Stockton, nephew of Commodore Stockton, and a cousin of Senator Stockton, committed suicide at the Eutaw House last Sunday by taking morphine. He left a note saying: "I die because I have got no home to go to." He held many offices of distinction. He was a South Carolinian by birth, and graduated at the Naval Academy. He was with Commodore Perry in his Japan expedition, and at the outbreak of the civil war resigned his position of Commander in the United States Navy to join the Confederate Navy, in which he was a Captain, but afterward became a Colonel of land forces. Before the war Stockton had a very large plantation in South Carolina, and a summer residence in Newport. He leaves a widow and three children, who are comfortably provided for by life insurance. Stockton was wholly out of means, and his board bills fell due to-day, which he had nothing to meet. Mrs. Stockton is a cousin of Mrs. Jeff. Davis, and was once a Southern woman of high social position.

No Revision of the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The House Committee of Ways and Means virtually decided to-day against any revision of the tariff laws during the present session of Congress by indefinitely postponing the consideration of the sugar question.

The steel rail question and the bill reducing the tariff on certain articles embraced in section 2504 of the revised statutes. Three votes were taken by the committee resulting in 7 to 6 in each instance. Gibson, of Louisiana, favored the revision of both the internal revenue and tariff systems with a view to equalizing bordens of taxation upon all classes and interests, and offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee of five members to take into consideration the entire subject and report at the opening of the next session of Congress.

A Resolution was, however, on motion of Morrison, tabled by a vote of 7 to 6, as follows:

Yeas; Morrison, Mills, Garfield, Kelley, Conger, Frye, Wood. Nays; Tucker, Gibson, Phelps, Carlisle, Fellow, Dunnell. As the questions disposed of to-day are considered the most important that have been referred to during the present session the result is generally accepted as an indication that no tampering with tariff will be encouraged or permitted by this Congress.

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

A fire in Wilkesbarre, Pa., Monday night, destroyed Carey's dollar store, loss $9,000, and Kern's dry goods store, $18,000. Oppenheimer's leather store was damaged $500. Three buildings of the John B. Wood estate were burned: loss $3,000.

R. T. Wilson and associates took formal possession of the Macon and Brunswick (Ga.) road Monday, with W. M. Johnson, of New York, as president. Half an hour later E. T. Paine, contestant for the road, served an injunction on the purchasers, but was too late.

In the Maine elections Monday the Republicans carried Portland and Skowhegan against strong Fusion majorities last year, and also Lewiston, Gardiner, Bath and Saco. The Democrats carried Ellsworth. Rockland, Gorham, Kennebunk, Kennebec and Fryeburg all gave Republican majorities. Standish gives a Democratic majority.

Rev. Dr. Houghton, of the "Little Church Around the Corner," in New York, has put the police on the track of an attractive young woman, with blue eyes, beautiful auburn hair, florid complexion, and who looks as if she was fond of a dram, who has been making charitable collections from members of the Episcopal Church in New York and other places on false pretenses.

At New York, Monday, Judge Lawrence handed down his decision in the case of Rev. Edward Cowley, the convicted shepherd, whose application for release on bail was made before him last Friday. Judge Lawrence decided that no grave error was committed on the trial, and therefore dismissed the writ and remanded the prisoner. Cowley did not seem at all discomposed on account of the decision. It is expected that his counsel will make another attempt before some other judge to secure his admission to bail.

The Virginia Legislature Monday passed the readjusters' bill for the settlement of the State debt on a basis of $20,000,000 at 3 per cent The Hamilton bill, which was brought in competition with it, failed to obtain the republican support expected for it. The bill as passed will, it is considered certain, be vetoed by the Governor, in which case it is not thought likely to pass over it. The Legislature also passed a bill repealing the Moffett bellpunch liquor law and re-establishing a license system, which is to go into operation May 1. The vote was nearly unanimous.

The Baltimore Board of Trade Monday decided to set forth the advantages of this port as the terminus of a proposed line of steamers from Havre to a Southern port of the United States.—The Mooney labor ordinance, which was passed by the first branch of the city council over the mayor's veto, was before the second branch last night and was laid over until to-day.

The German army bill was discussed in the Reichstag Monday. Count Von Moltke made the principal speech.—The ceremonies of the Czar's fete in St. Petersburg to-day will be limited. A number of pardons will be granted.—An East Indian steamer has foundered. Sixty-four lives were lost.—Mariano Riva Palacio, the eminent Mexican statesman, died on February 20th.—General Grant and General Sheridan continue to be the objects of attention in Mexico.

The United States Supreme Court Monday decided the petition for a mandamus from Virginia upon United States Judge Rives, of the western district of that State, for the restoration of certain colored prisoners to the State court, in favor of the petitioner. The petition, however, to bring before the Supreme Court the case of Judge Cowles, indicted in the Federal court of the same district for excluding all colored citizens from the jury lists, was denied. The West Virginia case, involving the constitutionality of the State law excluding colored citizens from jury service, was decided against the constitutionality of the law in question.

—The public will take notice that the order of the Postmaster-General against the mails of the Louisiana State Lottery Company is rescinded. Registered letters and money orders can be sent through the mails as formerly.

Let Us Cut Them Off.

Tarboro Southerner.

Somebody is writing to the Farmer and Mechanic putting in a plea for a "North Carolinian to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the State Chemist, Dr. Ledoux." He ought rather to have commended the vacancy to be continued. Let us cut off these expensive barnacles rapidly as possible. It is not a necessity, and poor and bto as we are, have no right to indulge in luxuries. We live and thrived without it.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS OF THE 46TH CONGRESS.

Spirited Debate in The House Between Conger, Frye, Garfield and Others.

By Telegraph to the News

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Senator Burnside, from the committee on Military Affairs reported adversely on the bill fixing the compensation of enlisted men in the signal service was indefinitely postponed.

Senator Hoar submitted the following resolution:

Resolved, That the committee on Judiciary be instructed to inquire and report whether any American citizens have been arrested or imprisoned for the exercise of their constitutional right to petition to this body concerning a matter of grand public interest, namely; a title to a seat in this body, of the Senator from the State of which they are citizens with the power to send for the persons and papers and to administer oaths. Adopted.

HOUSE.

The morning hour was, on motion of Mr Blackburn, of Kentucky, dispensed with, and Mr. Blackburn then moved that the House proceed to the consideration of the report of the Committee of the Whole on the subject of a revision of rules. He stated that it was his intention to immediately demand the previous question.

The President has withdrawn the nomination of Pinchback to be naval officer at New Orleans.

Mr. Blackburn's motion led to a spirited debate between Messrs. Conger, Frye, House, Garfield and others, an amendment to Rule 21 being the subject of dispute.

The amendment to Rule 21, known as the Morrison substitute, was agreed to.

The next amendment was that of requiring the yeas and nays to be taken on the passage of any bill appropriating money or relating to revenue. After being amended so as to require the yeas and nays to be taken on the passage of the general appropriation and Revenue bills, and bills for the improvement of rivers and harbors, it was agreed to.

Several other minor amendments were agreed to, and a great number of others were rejected, after which the revised rules were adopted by 122 to 88; and, on motion of Mr. Garfield, it was agreed that they should go into effect Monday next.

Bills were introduced and referred to follows:

By Harris, to print one thousand copies of the yellow fever commissioners report.

By Bailey, to refund the national debt proposes a new three per cent. bond in exchange for outstanding bonded indebtedness.

By Hoar, a resolution which was adopted providing that the committee on judiciary be instructed to enquire to the report whether any American citizen has been arrested and imprisoned for the exercise of their constitutional right to petition to this body concerning the title to a seat of a Senator from a State of which they are citizens, with the power to send for persons and papers.

This is supposed to refer to the action of the majority of the Louisiana Legislature in regard to the memorial of the minority of that body in relation to Senator Kellogg's seat in the Senate.

Senator Logan spoke at great length on the Fitz John Porter bill. He opposed the bill holding that there was no appeal from the decision of the original Court Martial. He was interrupted by Hill, of Georgia, and Jones, of Florida, and devoted some time to answering their inquiries.

Senator Logan's argument was technical in character, he admitted that the President may pardon Porter to-morrow, and that congress can authorize his appointment if they choose as an army officer.

The Political Sodom.

New York Star.

Mr. William L. Scott, of the Democratic national committee, favored Philadelphia as the place for holding the convention, declaring that there was no city on God's footstool that needed something of this sort so badly to enlighten it and get some civilization into it. And Mr. Scott was right. Philadelphia is the political Socom of the North American continent. If the record of the Radical thugs who control its local administration were known, the history of the Tweed ring would seem but a chapter of venal crimes beside it.

Didn't Believe in 'Em.

Detroit Free Press.

"You've got a telephone here, haven't you?' asked a citizen as he yesterday entered an office on Griswold street in a seeming great hurry.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Well, I never believed in 'em to any great extent, but I want to order some coal from a yard up the river."

The owner of the office proceeded to "call," and when he got the coal dealers he said:

"Mr. Blank is here, and he wants to know if you have any soft coal?"

"Yes—500 tons," was the answer.

"Well, he wants you to send him up a ton."

"We'll see him blowed first! He has owed us a bill for over two years!"

"Yum!" muttered the man as he stepped back.

"Did they say they'd send it?" asked the other.

"N—o, not exactly."

"What did they say?"

"I—didn't catch it very well. Let me repeat. Picking up the trumpet again he stood with it to his ear and asked:

"Did you say you'd send it?"

"Not by a blamed sight!" came the response.

"Well," asked the man, as a painful pause ensued.

"Well," replied the operator, this line isn't working very well this morning, and you'd better go to the office four doors below. The dealers seem to hear me well enough, but I don't get hold of their answer plainly. The other instrument is probably working all right."

"But I shan't bother any one else," growled the man. "As I said before, I never did believe in 'em to any great extent, and now I've lost what little faith I had. Much obliged—well, good day."

If his ear had been at the trumpet his faith would have been as big as a mountain.

Edwin Booth in Society.

The Booth of the parlor is quite as noble-looking a man as he of the stage. The chandelier sets him off quite as well as the footlights. He was in full evening dress, with black cravat, and without gloves—which in society this winter are considered quite superfluous, unless the occasion be a wedding. The tragedian has a superb head—a combination of Poe's and Bonaparte's and Byron's—essentially a poet's head. I was a little surprised to see a face which is so flexible on the stage so impassive now. I stood and watched him, while several ladies and gentlemen, professionals, sang and played, and hardly once did his face express the least pleasure. It was not exactly somber, but it was sober and sedate and immobile, and the long upper lip was firm. He cordially clapped his hands to express approval of a good thing, but his temperament is evidently not mercurial, and his emotions are now here near the surface. By his side was a petite lady, who was soon known as Mrs. Booth, but whom I had little difficulty in identifying as the same "Miss McVicker" of Chicago, whom 10 years ago I saw play a very delightful Juliet to Booth's Romeo before an audience that they were about to be married, and entered with zest into the new meaning of the play. She was dressed to-night in a brocade silk of ashes-of roses, with a collar and lappels and trimmings about the train of a slightly darker shade. Point lace at the throat and sleeves. At her side was Miss Booth, the daughter of Booth's first wife, in cashmere and silk. "You find society some relaxation, I hope, from your very trying profession, I said to the tragedian when the introductions were made. "Well, yes," he admitted, with a smile, "though, to tell the truth, as I have not been on the stage for some two months now, I am pretty thoroughly rested." "You used not to care for society," I remarked; "I think I have heard of the herculean efforts to drag you out." "Very likely," he said, "life is short, and one hasn't much time for society if one wishes to do anything else. But now my daughter looking over at the fair young lady, "and I come for the sake of my wife and her. And, on the whole, I find it pleasant."

Dana's Income

Springfield Republican

A few days ago the real-estate records showed the sale of a large house in Forty-seventh street, close by Fifth avenue, to Charleston A. Dana for $93,000. He is one of the few working journalists in New York who have been able to purchase a house for that or any approximate price. Working journalism as all within the profession well known, is not a means or winning gold. But eversince Dana's friends bought the Beach Sun for $175,000, 12 years ago, he has grown steady rich. Then his property would hardly have reached $30,000, all told; and now he probably has an annual income of at least $70,000 His present financial position must be a pleasing contrast to his position when he began as foreign editor on the Tribune for the munificent salary of $12 a week. It is doubtless a comfort to be engaged in a newspaper enterprise which is handsomely remunerative. The Sun is, I think, the only journal out of which Dana has made any money, although his ventures have been varied. The American Cyclopedia is probably the only other source of his present fortune, and out of it he is reported to have made from $100,000 to $150,000 clear. The first issue of the cyclopædia sold very largely because there was such need of it, and the second issue has also sold very largely for the same reason.

All Will be Gratified.

Washington Republican.

Of course, neither party will have the choice of the other's candidate. The Democrats seem to desire the nomination of General Grant by the Republicans, and they are likely to be gratified—not for the reason that they desire it, but because the Republicans will do it. It now looks as if Mr. Tilden would be the Democratic nominee, and no candidate would be more pleasing to the Republicans—yet he will not be nominated because the Republicans desire it, but for the reason that the Democrats cannot honorably do anything else but to put him at the head of the column. He expects it, he demands it, and he will get the nomination.

HANGED--THEN SHOT.

A NEGRO OUTRAGES A LADY AND IS LYNCHED.

Louis Kinder, a Murderer and Ravisher, is Hanged, and His Body Then Riddled with Bullets.

By Telegraph to the News.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 2.—On Saturday last a one-armed negro named Louis Kinder, committed an outrageous assault upon a white woman named Byrd, residing near George's Station, Colleton county, about 50 miles from this city. A hunt was organized and the villain captured on Sunday morning by a mixed white and black posse. He was taken to the scene of the outrage and identified by his victim. A vote of the posse was taken and it was decided not to lynch him, but to allow the law to take its course. Kinder was then taken to George's Station and placed in the guard-house under a strong guard. Monday morning he was sent to Walterboro to jail, still strongly guarded. On their way to Walterboro the guard was overpowered by an armed force consisting, it is said, largely of the relatives of the outraged lady, when the prisoner was conveyed to a secluded spot in the woods, where he was kept until about 9 o'clock last night. Kinder was again confronted with the lady whom he had outraged and was the second time identified by her. He was again taken to the woods, where preparatins were made to hang him. At the last moment he confessed the crime, and also confessed to a similar outrage upon a colored woman in Newberry, six years ago. Kinder further acknowledged the killing of a colored girl near Kingstree, last April, and he also confessed to four burglaries and inumerable thefts. At 10:30 o'clock he was hanged, and after firing a volley of pistol shots into his body the crowd quietly dispersed.

Kinder was a dangerous outlaw, and one who, for over a year, had been a terror of every neighborhood on which he preyed. The action of the vigilants is heartily endorsed by both the white and colored residents of the vicinity.

More About the Kindergarten System.

Correspondence of the News.

LEASBURG, N. C., Feb. 28.—President Battle, in very strong terms, reflects upon the remarks we made about the Kindergarten instruction. We do not intend to be understood as being an enemy to the Normal School, president Battle or the University. Our suggestions were intended for their interest, as well as for the interest of North Carolina.

We will state for the information of president Battle that we have had the pleasure of attending the Normal School at Chapel Hill, and if he will look on the roll of 1879, he will find H. Y. A.; the "H. G. A." was a mistake. We will assert that while at Chapel Hill we gained some valuable information, and, upon the whole, was pleased with the instruction given; but must say we were a little surprised to find that three or four of the teachers were from other States. If this assertion is "four-fifths untrue," the untruthfulness came from the teachers themselves, for one of them claimed to be from Virginia, and two others from the North. The gentleman from the North we found to be very intelligent, pleasant and agreeable. But what was most surprising to us was that our distinguished men of North Carolina would, in the presence of these teachers, tell us to patronize home industry, home institutions, etc., and at the same time would employ Northern teachers to teach these home institutions. The inconsistency is what we could not understand.

In regard to the Kindergarten teacher we would say that our information about the price paid her was gained from the Normal students. We heard it rumored several times by them that she received, for her services, $100 per week. We are glad that president Battle has corrected this statement, and rejoice to know that the managers have used more discretion in paying out the public fund. But in regard to the mode of teaching, notwithstanding that president Battle states that the instruction given has led to the establisment of fifteen or twenty Kindergarten schools in the State, and for this great benefit there was only paid about $20 per week for six weeks, and that a majority of the best teachers of the country think it an excellent thing, and that our ideas in regard to the matter are quite ludicrous; we still think that even that small amount could have been appropriated to a much better purpose. While a majority of the teachers of the country may think it an excellent thing, there are others of equal intelligence and experience who think it a humbug. We remember, while at Chapel Hill, hearing one of the best teachers at the Normal School say that, in his opinion, it was a matter of little consequence—that there could not be much benefit derived from it. We assert that it was a debatable question with many of the teachers in attendance last summer whether or not it was worth one cent. We had the honor of attending two or three of her lectures If they were specimens, we think ladies of equal intelligence might be found in less than one hundred miles from the University.

We remember seeing a part of the Kindergarten class killing a snake one Sunday. They said it was for their teacher. We suppose she intends to teach Natural History in the nursery. Perhaps if she would leave off the N. H., the instructions might do for wealthy persons to introduce in their nurseries.

If North Carolina has more money than she needs, and wishes to learn her citizens how to be humbugged out of it, and her ladies to assume masculine qualities, then we think it advisable to send North for teachers.

If our opinion does not coincide with president Battle's, we hope he will not consider these statements "four-fifths untrue," or our ideas ludicrous. We wish to return our heartfelt thanks to him for the kind invitation extended to attend the Normal School next summer. Hope it will be convenient to do so, and that we may find a corps of North Carolina teachers in session, and that the good work may go on prospering; but no Kindergarten instruction for us, if you please.

Respectfully, H. Y. A.

An Operatic School.

The directors of the Philadelphia Academy of Music have agreed that an operatic school shall be established for the purpose of teaching chorus and solo singing. Pupils, either male or female, are to be taught gratuitously, and on being received into the class will be required to sign a paper that they will sing at such public or private rehearsals as the academy may require and to conform to all rules. After a certain length of study, those who are declared proficient by the conductor will receive a diploma from the academy. It is understood that the formation of singing classes is an experiment, and if it shall prove successful, that orchestral classes will follow in due season.

Progress.

Correspondence of the News.

OXFORD, N. C., March 2.—I design writing a few articles for your paper under the above heading. As every phase of sanity is the result of progress in some direction, it might be well to notice some of the causes which produce healthy progress, and what does not.

Any cause of action that tends to produce moral rottenness and ruin among a people, and manacle the youth, the hope of a country, in degrading chains of moral slavery, is not the kind of progress to be desired.

There is in almost every section a class of progressive characters, whose influence among unsuspecting youth is more to be dreaded than the small-pox or yellow fever,

In duck killing sections, duck shooters have their decoy ducks. They drive up a stake a certain distance from their hiding place, to which they fasten the decoy duck, around which unsuspecting ones congregate. When the designing gamesters see enough ducks to let fly his deadly shot, he fires away and rakes them in and makes a good thing of it. He is a progressive character, and is called public spirited, business, from policy, he spends a few dollars of his money in putting up blinds along the beach to realize a thousand per cent in playing havoc among the unsuspecting birds. Like young decoyed whisky drinkers and card players in our towns, the ducks soon lose sight of the dissasters of the past——of the many thousands that have fallen by the hand of the adroit deceiver, and assemble again around his dreary bird, in reach of his deadly missile of death. In almost every little town you can see adroit devices, that have feathered their nests by scattering the seeds of moral death among their fellow men. They profess to be public spirited men, talking loudly about their desire to see the town expand and grave entice it space became one of the great commercial centres of attraction. But to the age of intelligence and moral citizens they are acting out, from selfish motives, the policy of the adroit duck destroyers. Look at their liberality in putting up hundred dollar shanties, with painted blinds in front, to fleece and ruin unsuspecting boys that are deluded into ways of ruin by the decoy characters behind them. In this age of progress, while avoricious men are sleeping on their beds of down, with their painted blinds all over the little towns of our land, to decoy young men into habits of dissipation and disgrace, men who intimate that if more elevating influences were put in operation the country would be more prosperous, with brighter hopes for her future, is regarded as being a long ways in their views, behind the times. Christian parents once thought it their duty to carry their boys to church with them on Sunday, where they could be taught in the things which make for their present and eternal welfare. But in this age of progress many of them act as if they were doing all of their christian duty by attending the house of worship themselves, leaving their boys in the streets to be decoyed on Sunday, through the back doors of the drinking and gaming saloons of our public spirited men. For the present I must close,

Irvin vs Hughes. } Northampton.

Error.

A died intestate, B, his administrator at the instance of A's widow, the plaintiff, caused her year's allowance to be set apart; there not being enough assets, the clerk of the court entered judgment against the administrator and ordered the deficiency to "be paid when the assets shall come to his hands."

This imposed upon the administrator, the legal duty of applying the assets when received in satisfaction of the plaintiffs demand and his failure to do so, was a personal default for which he was liable. This personal obligation thus assumed and resting upon him, is transmissible at his death to his personal representatives, and suit may be brought against them.

State vs Craig. } New Hanover.

Error.

A part of a statute in excess of power may be null, and the rest remain in force. A justice of the peace has original jurisdiction, to try the misdemeanor of refusing willfully, to work the public road, under the act of 1879.

Grant vs Hughes } Northampton.

Error.

A personal judgment against a deceased debtor's own property, by relation, binds it from a time antecedent to his death. The widow takes the articles allotted to her, as a claimant preferred by law to all creditors, but subject to the liens resting upon them as they came into the possession of the administrator of her husband.

The debt was created in 1865, when only the few articles enumerated in Revised Code ch. 48, sections 7 and 8 were protected and except the articles mentioned in section 7, none of which, so far as disclosed, were among those assigned, the benefit of the exemptions contained in section 8, could be secured only by application to a justice and under the proceedings pointed out in section 9. Hence, the property was subject to sale for the debt during the debtors life and continues so afterwards.

[The railroad case and others will appear in our next issue. Other matter excludes a further report in this.]

A Shiner's Raise.

Detroit Free Press.

A stranger loaded down with a big satchel halted at the postoffice corner yesterday to have his boots shined, and when the job had been completed he felt for a nickel with the remark: "I suppose that five cents pays the bill?"

"Not much," replied the shiner. "That used to be the figure, but it is seven cents now."

"Don't try to cheat me, boy. Five cents is the regular price here, and I know it!"

"See, here, mister," said the shiner, as he packed his brushes away, "do you read the papers?"

"Of course I do."

"And don't you know that white paper has gone up fifty per cent."

"Yes, I've read that it had."

"Well, how d'ye 'spose we kin black butes at five cents any more? The figger is seven, and if we can't bust the monopoly we'll have to raise on that."

The man came down with seven cents, but very slowly and thoughtfully, as if he could'nt exactly understand all about it.

THE FORTY THIEVES.

THE DOINGS OF A VERY DIMINUTIVE BAND.

A Gang of Urchins, Demoralized by Trashy Literature, Become Thieves and Robbers.

Philadelphia Times.

Quite recently complaints were lodged at the Seventh district police station of numerous thefts of velocipedes, bicycles, sleds and other things. From the yard of 617 North Sixth street a bicycle was taken; a velocipede from 724 North Sixth street, a sled from 603 Marshall street, a velocipide and sled from 539 Dillwyn street and a sled from 432 Marshall street, One of the velocipedes was worth $20. A white bedspread was also stolen from 903 Marshall street and clothes-lines were stripped and store fronts pillaged. Policemen Peacock and Whitemen suspected that the thefts were the work of a gang of youngsters from around Front and Callowhill streets, known as the "Forty Thieves," under the leadership of a diminutive rogue named Stephen Muldoon, alias "Jack Sheppard," 12 years old, residing at Second and Green Sts. He was under arrest two years ago for the larceny of a push-cart. On Wednesday afternoon Muldoon, a sneaking-visaged youth, about four feet high, was arrested for the theft of a blanket. On his way to the station house he admitted stealing a basket and by the time he reached the station was making a clean breast of a number of thefts, including the velocipedes, etc. He gave the names of his youthful confederates and they were picked up one after the other until there was under lock and key—young Muldoon, Joseph Hand, 13 years of age 107 Callowhill streeet; William Harrigan, 12 years, and Joseph Gallen, 13 years, both of 345 North Front street, William Daily, 13 years of 13 Court alley, and Thomas Kelly, 12 years; 619 North Second street.

THE YOUNGSTERS CONFESS.

The gang began to tell on one another until the whole story came out, and the places where the plunder had been sold or hidden were known. A rocking horse, worth $2.75, had been sold for 75 cents; on Dana street, below New Market; a silver mounted bicycle, worth $20, for 50 cents, at 322 Brown street; another velocipede was found at Harrigan's house; a sleigh, worth $5, for 30 cents, in Avenue C; another sleigh, worth $4, for 50 cents, at 122 Callowhill street; a sleigh at Hand's house, another at Muldoon's, and a clipper, not worth much, had been disposed of for 25 cents, on Second street, below Willow. The juvenile culprits formed a frowsy-haired, dirty-faced sextette as they sat on the front bench of the dock at the Central Station yesterday.

Testimony was given concerning the identification of the velocipedes and sleds. The Magistrate then told Muldoon to stand up and asked him: "What have you got to say?"

"I don't know what to say," the sullen-faced lad responded.

"Come out here," the Court commanded.

"He's a goin' to give de gang away—to squeal on us fellers," young Harrigan whispered to another lad. The accomplices looked angrily at Muldoon as he came forward.

"You're the chief of this crowd of youngsters?" Magistrate Smith enquired; "now tell us what you did."

"Well, I wasn't with 'em when they took the two sleighs. One was sold on New Market street, and the other at Front and Callowhill. Sometimes we all went in to sell," Muldoon answered. He said he was with them when they stole one sled. Harrigan remarked that he wasn't with them, but that it was his brother.

"Who was the boss?" asked the 'Squire.

"I don't know," Harrington answered. "Yes, it was Muldoon; we call him Sankey."

Daley said: "Sankey was de leader. We always obeyed Sank's orders."

Gallen answered: "I was only with them when they tuk a blanket."

Muldoon's alias was "Jack Sheppard;" Hand's, "Mickey Hand, from abroad," Harrigan's, "Sixteen String Jack;" Dailey's, "Moody;" Kelley's, "Brockey Tom;" and Gallen was called "Bowery Jack." One of the party, who could read, had given all these titles to the band in imitation of the heroes in dime novels and blood-and-thunder story papers. The Magistrate committed the party under $1,000 bail each to answer at court.

The School Bill.

The Free Lance.

A correspondent of the Greensboro Patriot, writing from Raleigh, suggests that the Speaker of the two Houses, when the Legislature meets, be requested to sign the School Bill, which failed to become a law at the last session on account of negligence on their part in failing to sign it. It would be a most beneficial law to the children of the State, and should not be allowed to remain a dead statute any longer than the proper remedy can be applied to make it effective.

The people seem to be aroused on the subject of education in most parts of the State, and nothing should be done to throw an obstacle in their way, but everything to advance their interests in such a noble work.

A Cheap Lunch.

Providence Journal.

A gentleman visiting Oporto, Portugal, sends to his friends in Providence the following bill for his lunch on the 2nd inst., the currency being about the same as ours: Salt .01 bread, .02; ice, .02; soup (Julienne, very good), .05; 1 woodcock cooked with green peas, .24; potatoes, (Lyonnais), .06; napkin, .01; waiter (rather a large fee), .02; total, .48; would have cost at least $2 at Delmonico's; whole thing well cooked and nicely served; wine, all I could drink for nothing.

DAILY NEWS

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3, 1880.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Propr

OUR telegraphic report from Washington states that President Hayes has withdrawn the nomination of Pinchback to be naval officer at New Orleans. And why?

THE ANNUAL EXPENDITURE for the maintenance of the public schools of the State of New York has risen from $1,607,000 in the year 1850 to $10,348,000 in 1876; the average daily attendance of pupils last year was 570,382, against 494,850, in 1872; the present aggregate value of school-house property is over $30,000,000, or about $10,000,000, more than it was in 1870. The total amount paid to teachers last year was $7,600,000. The compulsory education law, according to the superintendent, is a dead letter, and must remain so till it is amended; but the figures prove that even without compulsion the attendance grows and the system of popular education expands.

TO PREVENT the obstruction of a legislation in the British Parliament, or what would be called in Congress "filibustering," Lord Northcote, the leader of the conservative party in the House of Commons, introduced on the part of the government a resolution giving to the Speaker absolute power to act in the matter without appeal. For the first offense the member so offending is to be suspended for one day; for the next the suspension is to be extended for three weeks; the third offense carries with it the penalty of expulsion; but before sentence is passed and definite action taken upon it by the House the member inculpated is to be allowed to speak in his own behalf, but no general debate is to be permitted. The resolution was passed on Saturday. It was not made a party measure, the Marquis of Hartington, the leader of the opposition, giving his support to the course that the government had adopted. The purpose of the resolution was to put an end to the persistent efforts of the extreme wing of the home-rulers to all legislation until their claims to home rule and the tenure of land in Ire.and were considered.

"THE LIFE AND PUBLIC SERVICES OF JOHN SHERMAN."

We acknowledge the receipt of a pamphlet bearing the above title, sent us by the Cincinnati Sherman Club.

There are forty-three pages of the book, and we are very much obliged to the "Club" for their kindness; but as we have no particular interest in Mr. Sherman, and hardly thinking he is the center of attraction with our readers, we hardly feel called upon to peruse its precious contents immediately. We are glad to note the fact, however, that his many public services can be recounted in a 48-page pamphlet. After Mr. Sherman's "boom" has attained a little larger growth, we may make it convenient to do a little perusing therein.

This is not intended as a literary notice of the work.

A correspondent of the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette gossips about newspapers in general, and Mrs. Frank Leslie in particular: "Of how little consequence individuals are in this life is exemplified in the way that newspaper editors and managers pass away while their enterprises continue right along, just as if nothing had happened. Men come and men go, but newspapers go on forever. The editors of the three leading New York newspapers died some years since—Bennett, Greeley and Raymond—and so far as the several properties are concerned, they (the Herald, Tribune and Times) were not in the least affected. Bryant died, but who thinks of the dead poet now in connection with the Evening Post, which he established fifty years ago? When the poets Morris and Willis shuffled off their mortal coils some papers predicted that the Home Journal would follow their example, but that paper is in a more flourishing state now, and has more influence than when the founders presided over its columns. None of the original Harpers exist, but the Harper periodicals retain their deserved popularity. So will it be with the publications so long controlled by Frank Leslie, who passed away a few weeks since. Possibly they may even increase in value and power. In the last named case there is a guiding hand and a very capable head, which, with the years of experience gained under the eye of the original projector, will be invaluable in maintaining the fame and the place of the Leslie periodicals. Reference is made to the widow of the late publisher, Mrs. Frank Leslie, who now fills the chair of the editor-in-chief, and fills it most acceptably. The lady has power and rare grace as a writer; she is an original thinker, an uncommonly gifted linguist, and a brilliant conversationalist. Although beautiful in person, she is not over anxious to shine in society, but has for years devoted her time, her interests and her attention to the profession of literature or journalism, of which she makes a life work. There is no fear that the name of Frank Leslie will suffer at the hands of its present owner. On the contrary the publications will improve in tone if the good taste of Mrs. Leslie is given fair play. Many of the best features of the present periodicals emanated from her active, fertile brain."

The very latest story of absent-mindedness has for its hero a Massachusetts clergyman, who one day drove up to a blacksmith shop and asked how long it would take to shoe his horse. "An hour," said the smith. "Very well, I'll leave him and call for him;" and unhitching the animal and leading him into the shop, the parson climbed back into his carriage, picked up the reins, which had been left resting on the dashboard, and there sat until his horse was shod and he was aroused from his brown study by a shout from the blacksmith.

A large cave is reported to have been recently discovered near Woodsboro, Frederick county, Md., rivaling in extent the famous Lurray caves in Virginia. A large stream of pure limestone water of considerable depth is said to pass through the cave,, which is reported as containing a large number of very beautiful stalactites and stalagmites.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, without a single one of which ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Jos. S. Fisher, president; W. I. P. Ingraham, vice-president; W. Paine, M. D.; C. S. Gauntt, M. D.; H. J. Doucet, M. D.; R. J. Kline, M. D.; J. R. Holcomb, M. Independent and Conservative.

THE SUN is conservative in politics, independent in tone and non-sectarian. Its proprietors point to the principles that have governed it in the past as a guarantee of its course in the future. Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS,

The Scourge of Mankind. Old Methods of Treatment and Remedies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this country. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP.

BREAST AND LIMBS CURED.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs —— of ——, Dr. —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc.,
STEPHEN CROWELL.
NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

CURED IN ONE WEEK.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER:—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.
MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.
NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

MEDICINAL AND TOILET.

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clean and wholesome Skin and Scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large box, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 3 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

—A number of country wagons loaded with cotton were seen backing up to the sidewalk in front of the Government building last evening, and it took all the Reporter's eloquence to convince them that the postoffice was not the market house.

—By reference to our telegraphic columns, on first page, it will be seen that the "Rev." Edward Cowley, who was recently convicted of starving children under his care, was yesterday transferred from the toombs to Blackwell's Island. Two years ago he was Chaplain there, he goes now as a convict.

Still Another.

On Monday, March 1st, by the Rev. C. J. Gibson, Mr. W. H. Goodwin, of Raleigh, N. C., to Miss M. A. Cousins, of Petersburg, Va. Moore's Complete History of North Carolina.

The first volume of this valuable work is now in the hands of the binder, and will be ready in about ten days. It is the only complete history of the State ever written, and will be highly appreciated by every North Carolinian. Volume first contains 510 pages.

Republican Executive Committee.

To-day, at 2 o clock p. m., the Executive Committee of the Republicans of the 4th Congressional district will meet in this city, for the purpose of taking action regarding the appointment of delegates and alternates to the Chicago Convention, and for naming the time and place for holding the District Convention to nominate candidates for Congress and Elector.

Personal.

Col. Thomas M. Holt is registered at the Yarboro.

B. L. Perry, of Beaufort, is stopping at the same hotel.

Hon. K. Battle, president of the State University, is in the city.

Senator Vance was in the city yesterday. He is on his way to Washington, returning from a business trip to Charlotte. Professor Mills, of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, was also in city yesterday.

The State Press and the Railroad Sale.

The State Journal of yesterday sums up the number of State paper for, against, and those non-committed, as follows:

For the sale, 45; against it, 11; non-committed, 16.

This does not include all the papers, for there is considerably over 72 papers in this State—but only these on its exchange list.

A Good Thing.

Work will soon be begun on the vacant lots opposite the postoffice building, and a handsome building will soon be erected there. It is truly gratifying to note this fact, for the place has been an eye-sore ever since the fire, over 2 years ago. Why property like that—in the very heart of the principal business street—has been allowed to remain for so long a time without any effort having been made to rebuild, we confess, is an enigma with us.

Dime Party.

The Ladies of the First Presbyterian Church will give a dime party at their Session house on to-morrow night. It is understood the entertainment will be continued over Friday night.

These parties are always successful and never fail to attract a large and select crowd. Everything good for the inner man will be on hand and in abundance. If you want to spend a really enjoyable evening, be sure to attend to-morrow night.

Carolina Rifle Club.

The club shot at the 200 yard range yesterday afternoon. Only eight members contested for the prize. Lieutenant John T. Pullen was the winner. The following was the score:

Jones, W. W.	32
Lewis, Dr.	27
Raney,	38
Foster,	16
Ferrall,	36
Ollis,	32
Burkhead,	36
Pullen,	40

At last Lieut. Pullen is made happy by winning the gold medal of the club. There are various opinions as to who he will permit to wear it this week, and the question may arise—which is the most desirable, the badge or bananas?

County Commissioners.

There was a full meeting of the Board again on yesterday.

Messrs. R. G. Dunn and James Q. Williams were elected Cotton Weighers for one year from the first of the approaching April.

Action was taken looking to the granting of a new road from the township house in Panther Branch township to Holland's church; but subsequently this action was reconsidered and Tuesday of the April meeting fixed as the time for again hearing the petitioners.

Relief from payment of erroneous taxes was granted; several accounts were allowed, and after the transaction of considerable business relating to the poor and to schools, the Board adjourned till this morning, 10 o'clock.

Hayes Gets a Letter From Raleigh.

The following open letter written by General John C. Gorman, of this city, to President Hayes, explains itself. It seems that Grant men have fully gotten their back's up over the action of the late Republican State Executive Committee:

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 26, 1880.

To his Excellency, the President:

SIR:—On the 29th of January, 1880, a meeting of the Republican State Executive Committee of the State of North Carolina was held in the City of Raleigh, by which committee and at which time and place delegates at large were chosen to the Republican National Convention which will meet at Chicago on the 2d of June next. As members of that committee and participating in its meeting were Wm. P. Canaday, collector of customs at Wilmington, N. C., J. J. Mott, collector of internal revenue for the sixth collection district of North Carolina, and Pinkney Rollins, a clerk in the loan division of the treasury department. These officeholders took part in the deliberations of the committee in defiance of your civil service order No. 1. As wide publication was given to the fact, and as you have taken no steps to punish the offenders and appear consistent in your announced efforts to purify the civil service and keep Federal officeholders from interfering with the rights of our citizens in conventions and elections, I write you at the request of many citizens, as well as on my own account, to ask you to do us the favor to tell us what your civil service order No 1 means. Even a double headed construction will be some consolation.

With great respect, I am, your obediant servant,

JOHN C. GORMAN.

Supreme Court.

Court opened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. All the Justices were present.

Appeals from the Eighth Judicial District were called, and causes disposed of as follows:

State vs. Anderson Drake, from McDowell; argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State, and D G Fowle and W W Wilson for the defendant.

State vs. A Philo Sherrill et als, from Caldwell; argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State, and W W Wilson and D G Fowle for the defendants.

James M Gudger vs. Clingman Hensley, from Yauncy; argued by Merrimon, Fuller & Fuller for the plaintiff, and Reade, Busbee & Busbee for the defendant.

Court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning, when the consideration of appeals from the Eighth District will be resumed.

Meeting of the Board of Agriculture

There was a called meeting of the Board of Agriculture at the Governor's office yesterday for the purpose of electing a State Chemist to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Dr. A. R. Ledoux.

Dr. Chester A. Goessman of Amherst College Mass. was chosen unanimously.

Dr. Goessman is about 40 years of age, and is now Professor of chemistry in the Massachusetts Agricultural College and State Inspector of Fertilizer Next to Prof. J. W. Johnson he has done more original agricultural chemical work than any man in the country. He has a national reputation and was the Pioneer in the introduction of the early amber cane and of the sugar beet industry.

There were a number of candidates before the Board for the position.

Dr. Ledoux was requested to continue in office as Director of the Station until the arrival of his successor and has consented to do so.

The Board instructed Col. Polk, the Commissioner, to see that manufacturers did not avoid the law by selling their fertilizers under any other brand than the one named in their licenses. Any brand which differs from the license brand is liable for the tax or the penalty.

The Board then adjourned.

Dr. Ledoux will make all the analyses of Fertilizers this season.

Doctors Will Differ.

The following characteristic letter speaks for itself; is plain English; needs no interpreter. Read it:

NEW MADISON, OHIO, February 18, 1880.

Messrs. Landrum & Litchfield, Abingdon, Va.:—Gentlemen: Inclosed find $5.00 for another half dozen bottles of the Seven Springs "Iron and Alum Mass." My wife's health is better this winter than it has been for years, and I have spent hundreds of dollars for medicines and physicians' bills, but the "Iron and Alum Mass" is the cheapest remedy I have found, and has done the most good, consequently I am encouraged to continue its use, notwithstanding our family physician says it is for RICH PEOPLE with nothing much the matter with them. Well, we are not rich, and I suppose it operates differently on POOR PEOPLE. My wife has been an invalid for years, and is getting better "Doctors will differ." Send me the MASS. Experience is better than logic. Respectfully,

JAMES M. CARR.

This most excellent remedy is becoming more popular with our people every day. It is one of the few medicines that improves on acquaintance—the more one knows of it, the more its virtues are appreciated. Everybody who has given it a fair trial, speak well of it. Our druggists sell large quantities of it. People are not afraid to use a medicine that they know to be efficient for their ailments, and at the same time harmless in its nature. Read what is so aptly said of it, in another column of this paper. Truth is mighty and will prevail.

THE NEW FRYER.

Fig. 1.

This useful invention meets a long-felt need for a more convenient method of removing Oysters, Potatoes, and other fried food, with greater quickness, and all at once, from the boiling fat in which they have been cooked, and allowing the fat to drain from them while they remain over the fire; thereby getting rid more certainly of the superfluous grease, the objection so often made of the unhealthiness of food cooked in the ordinary frying-pan is done away with.

By detaching the supporter, you have for omelettes and other things for which a drainer is not required, a deeper and better quality of frying-pan than has heretofore been made.
